TO THE

GENTLEMEN of the LAW.

PRECEDENTS in Conveyancing, countenanced by the authority and ſanction of the reſpectable names of gentlemen more immediately in that department, cannot fail of meeting with a favourable reception from the public. The utility, and even the neceſſity, of a performance of this kind, is too obvious to be contended for. Every profeſſor of the Law, notwithſtanding he may be a man of abilities, and perfectly qualified to prepare his own draughts, will find conſiderable aid and aſſiſtance by having recourſe to good precedents; and when thoſe precedents are methodically arranged, and conſiſt of ſuch infinite variety, as to contain almoſt every thing that a practiſer can have occaſion to conſult, we cannot ſcruple to call ſuch a performance the Complete Conveyancer.

This title, therefore, we have preſumed to give to the work now offered to the public; and flatter ourſelves that we ſhall not be accuſed of preſumption. Had we been the real authors or drawers of the precedents contained in theſe volumes, ſuch boaſting would ſavour too much of oſtentation and vanity; but when we candidly acknowledge ourſelves little more than the compilers and collectors of the valuable works of others, (the greateſt part of which is from original manuſcripts,) we apprehend we are thoroughly authorized to expreſs our real ſentiments concerning thoſe who have contributed to enrich our performance.

The editors purpoſe to render this work ſtill more complete, by the introduction of a great variety of caſes, with the opinions of the moſt eminent council on different points of practice relative to Conveyancing; which they flatter themſelves will be deemed a valuable acquiſition, and extremely pertinent in a work of this nature; as they conceive ſuch opinions will not only be found of the utmoſt utility, but will facilitate the ſtudy and practice of this deſirable branch of the Law. They are happy to announce the promiſes of aſſiſtance they have received from ſome gentlemen, eminent in the profeſſion, whoſe names they think think it an honour in being permitted to mention in the courſe of this work. They venture to aſſure the public, that they have been indefatigable in collecting precedents from all their learned friends, and they are in poſſeſſion of great numbers that have been peruſed, ſettled and ſigned by the moſt eminent Conveyancers; and they have occaſionally introduced into this performance ſuch practical obſervations as cannot fail to be intereſting.

As the practice of incloſing waſte lands and common fields is now become ſo frequent, it would be an unpardonable omiſſion in a work of this kind not to give precedents of bills for this purpoſe, which have, however, been wholly omitted in all Books of Conveyancing hitherto publiſhed; we have, therefore, procured a variety of modern precedents, which will doubtleſs be highly acceptable to the Gentlemen of the Law.

Beſides the original draughts, which are ſigned by the reſpective council who drew or ſettled them, we have alſo introduced into this work every thing that is valuable in every Treatiſe of Conveyancing of eſtabliſhed reputation.

The THEORETICAL PART explains the nature and operation of the different kinds of deeds, common aſſurances, fines and recoveries; and the various methods of acquiring, conveying, limiting, ſettling, aſſuring and forfeiting real and perſonal eſtates.

ABSTRACT

ABSTRACT of the ACT

Of the 19th of GEO. III.

For limiting the Number of Sheets to be written or ingroſſed in each Skin of Parchment.

" THAT all Attornies, Solicitors, or other perſons ſhall make their ſeveral charges at and after
" the known and uſual rates upon their client or employer, by the number of ſkins they ſhall " ingroſs or write, and not otherwiſe. And if any Attorney, Solicitor, or other perſon ſhall, for
" the writing or ingroſſing one ſkin of parchment only, charge any client or employer for double or
" treble ſkins, or for more than one ſkin, making his charge by the ſheet, or in any other manner
" than by the ſkin, under pretence of having inſerted in ſuch one ſkin of parchment a greater number
" of ſheets than what they are obliged to do, or than what is uſually done, or under any pretence
" whatſoever, ſuch charge ſhall not be payable by the client; and further, that every Attorney,
" Solicitor or other perſon ſhall, for every ſuch charge ſo made or demanded, forfeit and pay the ſum
" of ten pounds, with treble coſts of ſuit, to any perſon or perſons who ſhall inform or ſue for the ſame
" in any Court of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, wherein no eſſoign, protection,
" or wager of law ſhall be allowed.

" Provided always, that nothing in this act ſhall extend, or be conſtrued to extend, to the charge
" to be made for the ingroſſing any deed, the whole contents of which ſhall not amount to the quan- " tity or number of ſheets to be contained in two ſkins, reckoning the quantity of each ſkin according " to the number of ſheets above ſpecified."

N. B. The quantity allowed to be put in each ſkin is fifteen common law ſheets, (of ſeventy-two words each) or twelve chancery ſheets (of ninety words each.) Theſe numbers the preamble of the act mentions to be fair and reaſonable quantities to be ingroſſed or written in each ſkin.

By this act, a deed not amounting to thirty ſheets, may be ingroſſed or written on one ſkin; and a charge made according to the number of ſheets; but if it exceed thirty ſheets, it muſt be contained in three ſkins. It may however be obſerved, that any number of ſheets may be ingroſſed on each ſkin, provided a charge be made for no more than fifteen, (except in the above inſtance.) This is preſumed to be the proper conſtruction of the act. And thus much the Editors of the following work think it neceſſary to mention for the information of thoſe gentlemen who may not yet have had an opportunity of informing themſelves of it. At the ſame time they cannot but expreſs their apprehenſions that the act muſt ſhortly undergo ſome alteration, as there is apparently a miſtake in the framing of it.

Affidavits.

* By a Lady, that ſhe was unmarried when ſhe executed Aſſignment, and that one of the ſubſcribing Witneſſes (to whom it was reported ſhe was married) heard the Deed read, and knew the Contents.

CHARLOTTE JAMES, of ——, in the county of Worceſter, maketh oath and ſaith, that ſhe this deponent now is, and at the time of the execution of the annexed indenture of aſſignment was, ſole and unmarried, and that for and notwithſtanding any act by her done or committed to the contrary, ſhe was at and immediately before the execution of the ſaid annexed indenture of aſſignment, the lawful and rightful owner of the meſſuage or tenement, and premiſes therein compriſed, and had in herſelf good right, full power, and lawful and abſolute authority to grant and aſſign the ſaid premiſes to A. B. in the ſaid annexed indenture mentioned, in ſuch manner as the ſame premiſes are, in and by the ſaid indenture of aſſignment, granted and aſſigned. And this deponent further ſaith, that immediately before ſhe executed the ſaid indenture, the ſame was read over in the preſence and hearing of E. F. † one of the ſubſcribing witneſſes to the due execution of the ſaid indenture, and that ſhe this deponent is well aſſured the ſaid E. F. was acquainted with, and clearly underſtood the purport, true intent, and meaning of the ſaid indenture.

(Newnam.)

* C A S E.

A. B. has agreed for the purchaſe of a leaſehold houſe belonging to a lady, who is reported to be privately married to her ſervant; and many probable circumſtances concur to induce a belief of the report though the lady denies it, and has diſmiſſed the ſervant.

The lady came from Ireland, and has been here about two years, and for aught we know is of unblemiſhed reputation. She will make oath before a Maſter in Chancery of her being unmarried, and will procure the ſervant to be a ſubſcribing witneſs to the execution of her deeds of conveyance.

Query. Therefore, if A. B. will be ſafe in purchaſing, if ſuch affidavit be made by the lady, and the ſervant be a ſubſcribing witneſs to the due execution of the deeds? Or, will any covenant to be introduced in the deed render A. B. more ſecure?

If the lady is married, the legal eſtate is in her huſband, ſo that ſhe cannot aſſign without his concurrence; but he may afterwards impeach the grant, unleſs his aſſent to it can be ſhewn, or ſome ſatisfaction given by him that he is not married. If, therefore, he would join in the affidavit, and be a witneſs to the aſſignment, then, I think, that a Court of Equity would not ſuffer him afterwards to impeach it; and if this cannot be had, if ſhe would make an affidavit alone, and the deed was read over before the ſervant, ſo that he certainly had notice of the contents of it, and he then atteſted the execution, I think that a Court of Equity would not, in ſuch caſe, ſuffer him to impeach it; for our Law ſays, Qui tacite aſſentire videtur; or, Qui non prohibet jubet. But as to any covenant to be inſerted in the deed to guard againſt this objection, I think that it would be of no avail, becauſe ſhe (if under coverture) is diſabled from binding herſelf or her effects by any covenant.

R. WILBRAHAM, 1750.

† The perſon to whom it was reported ſhe was married.

That the Grantor is lawfully ſeiſed, that no Leaſe, &c. is granted out of the Premiſes, except, &c. (and that no Act is done to incumber.)

C. B. of, &c. Gentleman, maketh oath, that for and notwithſtanding any thing he knows, believes, hath heard, or done to the contrary, he was, at the time of the enſealing and delivery of the indenture hereinafter mentioned, lawfully and rightfully ſeiſed to him and his heirs, of a good and abſolute eſtate of inheritance in fee-ſimple, of and in the meſſuages, lands, tenements and hereditaments mentioned and expreſſed to be granted and releaſed by the ſaid C. B. and A. B. (his mother) to G. B. herein after mentioned, and his heirs, in and by one indenture bearing date, &c. and made or mentioned to be made between the ſaid C. B. and A. B. widow and relict of A. B. late of, &c. Gentleman, deceaſed, and mother of the ſaid C. B. of the one part, and G. B. of, &c. of the other part, and that he the ſaid C. B. hath not, nor doth know, believe, or hath heard that any other perſon or perſons have or hath granted any leaſe, rent, intereſt or eſtate, of, in, to, or out of the ſaid meſſuages and tenements, hereditaments and premiſes, or any part thereof, (except as in the ſame indenture is excepted,) and that he hath not, nor any other perſon or perſons to his knowledge or belief have or hath entered into, acknowledged or confeſſed any ſtatute, recognizance or judgment, or given any warrant or authority to acknowledge or confeſs any ſtatute, recognizance or judgment, or done or ſuffered any thing whereby the ſaid meſſuages, lands, tenements and hereditaments, or any of them, are or may be any ways affected or incumbered, or whereby the ſaid C. B. is debtor or accountable to, or liable to the ſuit or any proceſs of or for the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, or done or ſuffered any act, matter or thing whatſoever, whereby the ſaid meſſuages, lands, tenements, hereditaments and premiſes, or any part thereof, is, are, ſhall, or may be impeached, charged or incumbered in any wiſe howſoever, (except as aforeſaid.)

[And if there are any exceptions, ſay in this manner:]

Sworn, &c. *

That Premiſes contained in a Leaſe which is loſt are free from Incumbrances.

WHEREAS [recite the Leaſe as well as you can.] And whereas the ſaid A. D. may be ſatisfied that the ſaid leaſe is not mortgaged, nor the premiſes therein contained any wiſe incumbered, the ſaid A. B. maketh oath, that he this deponent hath not mortgaged the ſaid leaſe, nor depoſited the ſame with any perſon or perſons for any debt, pledge, or otherwiſe, nor in anywiſe incumbered the ſaid Premiſes; neither doth he this deponent know in whoſe hands, cuſtody, or power, the ſame leaſe now is; and in caſe he this deponent ſhall at any time find or recover the ſaid leaſe, that then he will deliver the ſame whole, uncancelled, and undefaced, (in caſe the ſame ſhall ſo come to his hands) to the ſaid C. D. or to whom he ſhall direct or appoint, for his uſe and benefit.

* C A S E.

I. G. being ſeiſed in fee of certain lands on the 19th of June, 1764, entered into the following agreement with I. S. for ſale of ſaid lands, viz. "19th June, 1764, agreed with I. S. to ſell him the fee ſimple and inheritance of all my "meſſuages and tenements, called C. which are now in the poſſeſſion of him the ſaid I. S. to take the rents and profits "from Lady-day, 1764, and to pay two hundred and twenty pounds for the conſideration thereof, on the 29th day "of September next." This agreement was ſigned by both parties, and the vendee gave the vendor one guinea in earneſt. The ſaid I. S. is ſince dead, without having carried the agreement into execution, leaving ſeveral ſons and daughters: and being poſſeſſed of ſome perſonal eſtate, by his will, executed a few days before his death, gave the ſame amongſt his wife and children in different proportions, and made his wife, his brother, and others, executors in truſt, but took no notice of the above contract.

Query. As I. S. died before the contract was carried into execution, leaving ſeveral children, all under the age of twenty-one years, is the ſame ſtill ſubſiſting, and with whom muſt I. G. perform it?

This being an agreement in writing, the vendor became thereby a truſtee in equity for the vendee; and the vendee dying before the contract was carried into execution, his heir at law is become entitled to it in equity, for the contract is not relinquiſhed by the death of the vendee, but ſo much of his perſonal eſtate was realized. The purchaſe money, I think, muſt be paid by the executors of the vendee, and if a bill is brought by the heir of the vendee againſt the vendor, the court will decree the vendor to convey to the heir of the vendee, and will compel the perſonal repreſentatives of the vendee to pay the purchaſe money if they have aſſets, and the title is good.

Query II. If the contract is to be performed, as the whole of teſtator's ſubſtance conſiſts of perſonals, which is very little more than will pay the conſideration of ſuch purchaſe, after diſcharging his debts, will the heir at law be entitled to the whole of ſuch eſtate, or will a Court of Equity direct the purchaſe to be made for the joint benefit of the family, in ſuch manner as they appear each to be benefitted by ſaid will?

This eſtate muſt, I think, be looked upon to be perſonal eſtate as to the vendor, the teſtator having contracted for it, but real eſtate in the vendee's heir, and therefore the heir at law will be entitled to it. The teſtator's perſonal eſtate will be obliged to make good this contract, and the whole will go to the heir of the vendee, and not in ſuch proportions as his perſonal eſtate was given by his will.

THIS Indenture, made the twenty-ſeventh day of May, in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-nine, and in the nineteenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord King George the Third, between Abel Aſhton, of London, merchant, one of the executors of the laſt will and and teſtament of Abel Aſhton, late of London, Gentleman, deceaſed, and ſole executor of the laſt will and teſtament of Charles Aſhton, late citizen and grocer of London, alſo deceaſed, of the one part, and Charles Aſhton of London, Eſquire, the other executor of the laſt will and teſtament of the ſaid Abel Aſhton deceaſed, of the other Part. Whereas the ſaid Abel Aſhton deceaſed, in and by his laſt will and teſtament, bearing date the ſixth day of September, which was in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-one, did (among other things therein mentioned) give the ſum of two thouſand pounds of lawful money of Great Britain unto his ſons the ſaid Abel Aſhton and Charles Aſhton, parties hereunto, in truſt and for the benefit in the firſt place of his ſaid ſon Charles and his children, and afterwards of others, upon ſuch contingencies and in ſuch manner as therein is expreſſed, and did alſo thereby give and bequeath all the reſt and reſidue of his perſonal eſtate (not therein before given or diſpoſed of) unto his ſaid ſons Charles Aſhton and Abel Aſhton, in truſt, and for the benefit, in the firſt place, of his ſaid ſon Abel Aſhton and his children, and afterwards of others, upon ſuch contingencies and in ſuch manner as therein is expreſſed; and of his ſaid will did make and appoint his ſaid ſons Abel and Charles Aſhton executors, as by the ſaid will of the ſaid Abel Aſhton deceaſed, relation being thereunto had, it doth and may more fully and at large appear: And whereas the ſaid Charles Aſhton deceaſed did, in and by his laſt will and teſtament, bearing date the twenty-firſt day of Auguſt, which was in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-four, (among other things therein mentioned) give and bequeath unto his nephew the ſaid Abel Aſhton party hereunto, the ſum of three thouſand pounds capital ſtock, being part of the ſaid teſtator's capital ſtock, in the Bank of England, in truſt and for the benefit, in the firſt place, of his nephew the ſaid Charles Aſhton and his children, and afterwards of others, upon ſuch contingencies and in ſuch manner as therein is expreſſed; and did thereby alſo give unto his nephew Abel Aſhton, his heirs, executors and adminiſtrators reſpectively, all the reſt and reſidue of his eſtate both real and perſonal, after payment of his debts and funeral charges, and the legacies therein before given, and did make his ſaid nephew Abel Aſhton ſole executor thereof, as by the ſaid laſt recited will, relation being thereunto had, it may and doth more fully and at large appear. And whereas two thouſand pounds capital ſtock in the Bank of England, part of the perſonal eſtate of the ſaid Abel Aſhton deceaſed were, on the ſixth day of April, which was in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-four, ſold by the ſaid Abel Aſhton and Charles Aſhton, parties to theſe preſents, for the ſum of two thouſand four hundred pounds, which ſaid ſum of two thouſand four hundred pounds was, by the mutual conſent of both the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, paid to and received by the ſaid Charles Aſhton, party hereto, in lieu and ſatisfaction of the aforeſaid ſum of two thouſand pounds, and is by the like conſent and agreement of the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, to remain and continue in the hands of the ſaid Charles Aſhton, his executors and adminiſtrators, to be from time to time managed, employed, and diſpoſed of by him and them, upon the truſts and for the purpoſes in the ſaid will of the ſaid Abel Aſhton, deceaſed, expreſſed and declared, of and concerning the ſaid ſum of two thouſand pounds, and he the ſaid Charles Aſhton, party hereto, his executors and adminiſtrators, to be at all times hereafter chargeable with and accountable for the ſame accordingly. And whereas, by the mutual conſent of both the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, the reſiduary part of the perſonal eſtate of the ſaid Abel Aſhton, deceaſed, amounting to the ſum or value of twelve thouſand pounds in monies and ſecurities for monies (as by account ſtated under the hands of both the ſaid parties to theſe preſents may appear) hath been paid and delivered to and received by the ſaid Abel Aſhton, party to theſe preſents, and is by the like conſent and agreement of the ſaid parties to theſe preſents to remain and continue in the hands of the ſaid Abel Aſhton, his executors and adminiſtrators, to be from time to time managed, employed, and diſpoſed of by him and them, upon the truſts and for the purpoſes in the ſaid recited will of the ſaid Abel Aſhton deceaſed, expreſſed and declared, of and concerning the ſame; which ſaid ſum of fifteen hundred pounds is, by the mutual conſent and agreement of the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, to remain and continue in the hands of the ſaid Charles Aſhton, his executors and adminiſtrators, to be from time to time managed, employed, and diſpoſed of by him and them upon the like truſts, and for the like purpoſes, as are in the ſaid recited will of the ſaid Charles Aſhton, deceaſed, expreſſed and declared, of and concerning the ſame three thouſand pounds in the capital ſtock in the Bank of England thereby given and bequeathed unto the ſaid Abel Aſhton, party hereunto, on the truſts therein mentioned concerning the ſame; The ſeveral tenants in common of this land, may ſtock the eſtate in common without being reſponſible to each other for the ſame, becauſe they may all have the liberty of doing the like; but if they ſell any part of the produce of the lands, and receive the profits thereof, then I think they are accountable to their companions, A. may therefore ſtock in common with C. and will not be liable to pay rent to B. and D. nor his cattle ſubject to their diſtreſs, But as C. has been tenant to the reſt for ſo many years, A. ought firſt to give him reaſonable notice before the end of the year, that he is to continue no longer the tenant of his part, and it would be right likewiſe to give B. and D. notice of his intent to ſtock the eſtate himſelf in common with the others. There is no compelling C. to advance the rent againſt his will, but the beſt way will be for the ſeveral tenants, to come to a partition, and if they cannot agree upon this, either of them may enforce a partition of his ſhare, either by writ or partition at common law, or by bill in chancery.

Agreements as to arrears of rent, and time elapſed between the rent-day and day of poſſeſſion.

The timber not to be valued till winter, and the purchaſer to give a bond for the money.

premiſes ſhall be accounted timber, which are of the value of one ſhilling, or above that value, to be eſtimated according to the uſual manner and cuſtom of valuing timber; including as well the timber trees growing on the foreſt, as on the other parts of the eſtate: and the ſaid A. B. ſhall alſo pay for the underwood growing on the ſaid foreſt ground, according to the valuation to be made thereof by two ſuch perſons as aforeſaid; provided it ſhall appear that the ſaid C. D. has a right of ſelling ſuch timber and cutting down ſuch underwood on the foreſt ground at his pleaſure. And it is alſo agreed, that the ſaid A. B. ſhall take the ſaid eſtate in the condition it now is, without any allowance or deduction for the repairs of the premiſes, or for the ſea walls, or the tenants boots, or for the life of the widow F. in reſpect of the one hundred pounds per annum payable to her. And that for and in conſideration of the premiſes, and of the ſaid purchaſe-money, the ſaid C. D. ſhall forthwith (or with all convenient ſpeed) convey, or procure to be conveyed to the ſaid A. B. and his heirs, a good eſtate in fee-ſimple in all the premiſes, free from all incumbrances, (except the ſaid annuity of one hundred pounds, payable to Mrs. F. for her life;) in which conveyance are to be included not only the farms, &c. in leaſe to the tenants, but alſo all the foreſt ground, &c. belonging to the ſaid C. D. and alſo, &c. And in general all the eſtate, &c. which the ſaid C. D. hath in the ſaid lands and premiſes, or any other lands and premiſes in E. aforeſaid; and the ſaid A. B. ſhall be let into the poſſeſſion of the ſaid premiſes. And it is alſo agreed, That all the incumbrances and mortgages now on the premiſes, (except as before excepted) ſhall be paid by the ſaid A. B. out of the ſaid purchaſe-money, to be paid for ſuch part of the lands and premiſes as are now let to the tenants as aforeſaid, to ſuch of the mortgagees as ſhall be willing to take in their money; but as to ſuch of the mortgagees as ſhall inſiſt on the uſual notice, the ſaid A. B. ſhall retain in his hands ſo much of the purchaſe-money as is ſufficient to anſwer the principal and intereſt then due to ſuch mortgagees. And the ſaid A. B. ſhall be allowed to retain in his hands as much of the ſaid purchaſe-money as ſhall be ſufficient for the buying in the reverſion of part of the premiſes herein after mentioned, and the charges thereof, and for the obtaining and proſecuting any decree or act of parliament for that purpoſe. And the riſidue of the ſaid purchaſe-money (after deducting what is hereby agreed to be retained in his hands as aforeſaid) ſhall be paid to the ſaid C. D. or his aſſigns, for which the ſaid whole premiſes ſhall ſtand and remain as ſecurity to the ſaid A. B. till the ſaid reverſion ſhall be purchaſed as aforeſaid. And that as to ſuch part of the ſaid lands and premiſes as the ſaid C. D. is poſſeſſed of only for the remainder of a term of five hundred years, the ſaid C. D. ſhall be at the charge of purchaſing in the reverſion of the ſaid premiſes, and of any decree or act of parliament to be obtained for that purpoſe, ſo as that the fee-ſimple and inheritance thereof may be conveyed to the ſaid A. B. and his heirs, for which a ſufficient part of the ſaid purchaſe money ſhall be left in his hands, as in the next preceding articles is provided. And alſo that in caſe it ſhall be found that the ſaid reverſion cannot be brought, or otherwiſe got in, and if the ſame ſhall not be actually conveyed to the ſaid A. B. on or before, &c. the ſaid A. B. ſhall be at liberty to vacate the preſent agreements of the ſale and purchaſe of the ſaid premiſes, and ſhall be paid back what of the ſaid purchaſe-money he ſhall have then paid, with intereſt for the ſame, diſcounting thereout what he ſhall have then received by the rents and profits of the ſaid premiſes, to the ſaid C. D. or his aſſigns, or as he ſhall appoint, free from all incumbrances done by the ſaid A. B. But if the reverſion of the ſaid premiſes ſhall be brought in and conveyed to the ſaid A. B. the ſurplus of the ſaid ſum of five hundred pounds (after deducting what ſhall have been paid for that reverſion, and the charges of getting in the ſame) ſhall be paid to the ſaid C. D. with intereſt for the ſame from the time when the ſaid C. D. ſhall have had poſſeſſion of the premiſes. And it is further agreed, that if at the time of executing the ſaid conveyance and letting the ſaid A. B. into the poſſeſſion of the ſaid premiſes, three months or upwards ſhall have then elapſed ſince the laſt rent-day, the ſaid C. D. ſhall have an allowance in reſpect of the ſaid three months ſo elapſed, and ſhall alſo have liberty to receive any rent which ſhall be in arrear in the tenants hands at the ſaid then laſt rent-day. And that in regard it may be very difficult (if not impracticable) rightly to view and value the timber growing on the ſaid premiſes, and to meaſure the coppice ground, during the ſummer ſeaſon, by reaſon whereof the purchaſe-money to be paid by the ſaid A. B. in reſpect of ſuch timber and coppice ground cannot at preſent be reduced to a certainty, it is agreed that the valuing the ſaid timber and meaſuring the ſaid coppice ground, ſhall be deferred till the next fall of the leaf, and that in the mean time the ſaid A. B. ſhall give to the ſaid C. D. or to ſome other perſon whom he ſhall name, in truſt for him, a bond in a ſufficient penalty, conditioned to pay for the ſaid timber and coppice ground, according to the valuation and rates aforeſaid, as ſoon as the ſame ſhall be valued and meaſured as aforeſaid. In witneſs, &c.

that aſſignment recited;

and that the executors of the mortgager paid a further ſum to the mortgagee.

And that the ſon of the mortgager (who is one of the now covenanters) and his mother and her huſband (who now alſo covenants) have ſuffered a recovery of a moiety, and declared the uſe by bargain and ſale inrolled.

wherefore it was agreed that the purchaſer ſhould retain part of the purchaſe-money.

Recital that part of the purchaſe-money is paid,

C A S E.

A. B. held an eſtate under the governors of a free grammar ſchool, and on the 10th of March 1752, was ſerved with the following notice.

" By order of the governors of the free grammar ſchool, of A. in the county of L. I do hereby give you notice " that you muſt on the 25th day of March and the 1ſt day of May next, and at the other moſt uſual term, time or times of " entrance thereof, (if ſuch there be) leave and ſurrender up all that meſſuage and farm, paſture grounds and other the " lands and tenements, with their appurtenances ſituate by and being in W. and S. or elſewhere, in the ſaid county " of L. and which belong to the ſaid ſchool, and I do hereby further in behalf of the ſaid governors, give you notice " that you muſt deliver up poſſeſſion of the ſaid meſſuage, farm, lands, and tenements, with the appurtenances on " the ſaid 25th day of March, and 1ſt day of May, and ſaid other uſual term, time and times of entrance next. Wit- " neſs my hand this 17th day of February, 1752.

C. D. one of the ſaid governors and attorney for them."

On the 2d of January following (N. S.) another notice and demand of ſame tenor, dated 30th of December, 1752, for the ſaid A. B. to leave and give up poſſeſſion of the ſaid meſſuage and lands, on ſame days as above, was delivered to the ſaid A. B. Notwithſtanding which ſaid two notices, he ſtill holds ſaid farm, and will neither let the governors the lords of it into poſſeſſion, nor pay any advance of rent, but hath made a tender of rent for the half year, ending at Michaelmas, 1752, in proportion to the old rent, which is only fourteen pounds per ann. The governors have actually let it ſo ſoon as it can be got, to a new tenant at twenty pounds per annum, nor does it appear from his behaviour that he intends to quit it at the ſaid Lady-day and May day next. B. and his anceſtors have been ſo long in poſſeſſion that the time or times of entrance are not certainly known; he had once a leaſe of it, and ſince the expiration of that, hath held upon the ſame terms.

Query. Is the above notice and demand of the 17th of February, 1752, and the ſervice thereof ſufficient to ground an action againſt the ſaid B. for double rent, purſuant to the ſtatute of the 4th Geo. II. from Lady-day and May-day 1752.

If not, is the ſecond notice and demand of the 30th of December, 1752, or both of them ſufficient to ground an action for ſuch double rent, from Lady-day and May-day 1753, or can the ſaid notices by a further demand of poſſeſſion, or otherwiſe, be now made ſo ſufficient, or how would you adviſe the governors to act under the circumſtances of this caſe?

If the truſtees had not after the expiration of the ſaid leaſe aſſented to the tenants continuing the farm, but he had wilfully and wrongfully held ever ſince, theſe notices would entitle them to double rent, but if at any time ſince the expiration of the leaſe they accepted rent from him, or by any other act ever ſhewed their conſent to his remaining in the farm, he will be conſidered as their tenant at will, and the notices will operate to no other purpoſe than a determination of their will. In that caſe they cannot have an action for double rent, for the ſtatute of the 4th of Geo. II. is only againſt a tenant by ſufferance, or one that holds over againſt the will of the landlord after the expiration of a term of years, or for life, and does not extend to a tenant at will, nor does the ſtatute of 11th of Geo. II. extend to ſuch tenant on a notice given by the landlord, but only on a notice by himſelf of quitting the premiſes. I am alſo of opinion that the truſtees cannot recover on a quant. val. any more rent than the tenant has uſually paid ſince the leaſe determined, for ſuch payment will be evidence, I think, of an expreſs agreement for a certain ſum, and prevent the implication of a promiſe to pay what the farm was worth. So that I apprehend upon the whole the proper remedy in this caſe is an ejectment and afterwards an action for the meſne profits from the time the firſt notice was given.

J. YATES.

On the caſe being again ſtated Mr. Yates gave the following opinion.

A tenant by ſufferance is one that holds over after a leaſe for life or for years, is determined, without any conſent or agreement of the landlord; in other words, he is one that withholds the poſſeſſion immediately and continually from the time that ſuch leaſe determined, where the owner of ſuch eſtate never once agreed or conſented thereto, but if the landlord by acceptance of rent or any other act ſhould at any time after the determination of ſuch leaſe ſigniſy his conſent to the tenant's continuing on the farm he ceaſes from that time to be tenant by ſufferance, and that inſtant commences and will ever after be deemed a tenant at will to all purpoſes whatſoever. The former wrong is then ſo entirely purged, that no ſubſequent act or circumſtance whatſoever can be referred to, or in any wiſe be effected by, the agree, to and with the ſaid A. K. his heirs and aſſigns, that he the ſaid J. L. his executors and adminiſtrators, will on or before the, &c. now next enſuing, leave and deliver up the actual poſſeſſion thereof unto the ſaid A. K. his heirs or aſſigns, with all things which are fixed and belonging thereunto, and according to the tenor of the ſaid leaſe, and will then alſo deliver up the ſaid indenture of leaſe to be cancelled: In conſideration whereof the ſaid A. K. for himſelf, his heirs and aſſigns, doth hereby covenant and agree with the ſaid J. L. his executors and aſſigns, as follows, viz. That he the ſaid J. L. his executors and adminiſtrators, ſhall be releaſed and diſcharged from all rent due, and which ſhall become due for the ſaid premiſes, from Michaelmas laſt to the ſaid laſt day of ——— next, by virtue of the ſaid recited leaſe; any reſervation, covenant or thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding; and at the ſame time of ſurrendering the ſaid leaſe to the ſaid A. K. he the ſaid A. K. will deliver up the counterpart thereof to be cancelled. And further, That in caſe the ſaid J. L. or his wife, or any of his children, ſhall happen to be ſick at ſuch the ſaid time of his leaving the ſaid houſe and premiſes, ſo as it may endanger his or her life to remove therefrom; in ſuch caſe ſuch of them as ſhall be ſo ſick, ſhall have the uſe of the room (over ſuch a place) until he or ſhe can be ſafely removed without prejudice to his or her healths. (Add a penalty.) In witneſs, &c.

the leaſe ſo determined. But it is merely to be conſidered as the act or circumſtance of a tenant at will. I repeat it therefore that if the truſtees did ever once after the expiration of the old leaſe for years conſent to the tenants remaining on the farm (as it is plain from their acceptance of rent, as they formerly did) he ceaſed from that time to be a tenant by ſufferance, and this ſubſequent holding over after notice to quit, was merely the holding over of a tenant at will, ſo that I am ſtill of the opinion I was before, that an action for double rent will not lie againſt the tenant in the preſent caſe, for though a notion that it will may have prevailed in the country, it is not warranted by either of the ſtatutes above-mentioned, and there have been determinations to the contrary. I am alſo of the ſame opinion and for the ſame reaſon as before, that the truſtees cannot recover on a quant. val. any more rent than the tenant had uſually paid, for it is ſtated he would not agree to the advance propoſed, and therefore his poſſeſſion afterwards muſt either be wholly tortious, and a treſpaſs, or otherwiſe under the rent and demiſe which he had uſually held by, it cannot poſſibly be conſidered in the light of a contract for more rent, either expreſſed or implied (the latter of which is neceſſary for ſupporting an aſſumpſit on a quant. val.) for a notice to quit can never be conſtrued into a demiſe or permiſſion to enjoy (at the rent it was worth) and the rent demiſe under which the tenant had held before, and his refuſal to agree in any other, will certainly ſuperſede the implication of a promiſe to pay quant. val. or of any other terms or agreements than the former. The notices therefore that were given by the truſtees, amounted to no more than a determination of their will, and inſtead of creating a contract for more rent, made the tenant a treſpaſſer in continuing on the farm, and if the truſtees did not want to turn him out of poſſeſſion, but only to have a recompence for their profits from the time he was to quit according to notice, I think they may do it by an action of treſpaſs; but for recovering poſſeſſion and meſne profits too, I ſtill think it beſt (as the quickeſt and cheapeſt method) to bring an ejectment, and afterwards an action for the meſne profits: for if the tenant admits himſelf tenant in ejectment, the court will on motion award the truſtees their coſts, and if he does not appear to the ejectment the truſtees may recover their coſts under the damages declared for in the ſubſequent action for the meſne profits. A bill in chancery would be attended with more delay and expence to plaintiffs.

Entring into the rule will ſubject him to coſts.

THIS Indenture made, &c. Between A. A. of, &c. of the one part, and C. C. of, &c. of the other part: Whereas, &c. A. by the ſaid C. C. and ten thouſand pounds reſidue thereof, together with the intereſt for the ſame, at the rate of five pounds per cent. per annum, were agreed to be ſecured to the ſaid A. A. by mortgage of the premiſes, ſubject nevertheleſs to ſuch deductions as are herein after mentioned; for which purpoſe the ſaid C. C. and *D. Agreement to indemnify against a doubtful Title as to Part, viz. a Rectory, &c. The Purchasor paid only Part of the Purchase-Money, and for the Residue made a Mortgage to the Vendor; the Vendor covenants that the Purchasor may retain Part of the Money in his Hands (at Interest) until an Act, &c. or other Indemnity be procured; and that he will endeavour to procure it. The Rectory, &c. to be valued by Arbitrators, who may chuse an Umpire. On Eviction at what Rate to be paid for.

THIS Indenture made the sixteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord 1779, and in the nineteenth year of the reign of our sovereign Lord George, &c. Between Amos Ash of Bidford in the county of Cambridge, Esquire, nephew and heir of Bryan Ash, late of Bidford aforesaid, Esquire, deceased, of the one part, and Charles Cobb of Prestbury in the county of Gloucester, Gent. of the other part. Whereas the said Charles Cobb hath bought and purchased in the names of himself and Daniel Cobb, Gent. his son, of and from the said Amos Ash, for the price or sum of fifteen thousand pounds of lawful money of Great Britain, the manor or manors of Edlin and Felham, with their appurtenances, in the said county of Gloucester, and the scite of the late monastery of Edlin aforesaid, and the park there, and the rectory of the parish church of Edlin, and the advowson of the vicarage of the same church, and the glebe lands, tenths, tithes, and other hereditaments and appurtenances whatsoever to the same rectory belonging or in any wise appertaining, and divers other messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments in Edlin and Felham aforesaid and in Gobland, or some of them in the said county of Gloucester, all which said manors, rectory, tithes, messuages, lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises so purchased as aforesaid, were by indentures of lease and release and bargain and sale intended to be inrolled in Chancery, the release and bargain and sale bearing date the day before the day of the date of these presents, and made or mentioned to be made between the said Amos Ash of the one part, and the said Charles Cobb and Daniel Cobb of the other part, in consideration of the said sum of fifteen thousand pounds in the said indentures of release and bargain and sale mentioned to be paid by the said Charles Cobb to the said Amos Ash, granted and conveyed unto and to the use of the said Charles Cobb and Daniel Cobb, and the heirs and assigns of the said Charles Cobb, in trust for the said Charles Cobb, his heirs and assigns. And whereas upon executing the said deeds of purchase only five thousand pounds, part of the said sum of fifteen thousand pounds purchase-money were actually paid to the said Amos Ash by the said Charles Cobb, and ten thousand pounds residue thereof, together with interest for the same at the rate of five pounds per cent. per ann. were agreed to be secured to the said Amos Ash by mortgage of the premises, Subject nevertheless to such deductions as are herein after mentioned; For which purpose the said Chaarles Cobb and Daniel Cobb have by indentures bearing even date with these presents, demised and mortgaged the premises to the said Amos Ash, his executors administrators, and assigns, for the term of one thousand years; as by the said several indentures of lease, release, bargain and sale, and demise and mortgage, relation being thereunto respectively had, may more fully appear. And whereas by reason of the last will and testament of the said Bryan Ash, or otherwise, it may be very doubtful whether the said Amos Ash could legally and effectually sell and convey the said rectory, and the said advowson, glebe lands, tenths, tithes, hereditaments, and appurtenances to the same belonging, unto the said Charles Cobb and Daniel Cobb, and the heirs and assigns of the said Charles Cobb in manner aforesaid; and therefore it was agreed by and between the said Amos Ash and Charles Cobb at the time of the said purchase and mortgage, that the sum of two thousand pounds, part of the said sum of ten thousand pounds secured to the said Amos Ash by and upon the said recited demise and mortgage as aforesaid, should notwithstanding such mortgage remain and continue in the hands of the said Charles Cobb, his heirs and assigns, as a security to indemnify him and them against all loss, costs, charges, damages, and expences, as he or they, or any claiming under him or them should sustain, or be put unto for or by reason of any eviction, disturbance or interruption interruption from or by any perſon or perſons claiming or to claim any eſtate, right, title, or intereſt of, in, to or out of the ſaid rectory, or the ſaid advowſon, glebe lands, tithes, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, or any of them, or any part thereof, from, by or under the ſaid Amos Allen or ſaid Bryan Allen, or any of his anceſtors, or for or by reaſon of any annuity or annuities, rent or rents, charged or chargeable thereon, or iſſuing or paying thereout, except one annuity or yearly ſum of ſix pounds ſix ſhillings and eight-pence iſſuing or payable out of or chargeable upon the ſame premiſes, or ſame part thereof, to or for the vicar of Edlin and his ſucceſſors, and alſo except one other annuity or yearly ſum of ſix pounds chargeable upon the ſaid purchaſed premiſes, or ſome part thereof, to or for the poor of Edlin for ever. Now this Indenture witneſſeth, that it is hereby declared and agreed by and between the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, and the ſaid Amos Aſh doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs and aſſigns, that the ſaid ſum of two thouſand pounds, part of the aforeſaid ſum of ten thouſand pounds, ſhall remain and continue in his and their hands for the purpoſe aforeſaid, until either a good and effectual title to the ſaid rectory, tithes and other the ſaid laſt mentioned premiſes, ſhall be by the ſaid Amos Aſh, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, and at his and their own charge, procured and obtained by act of parliament, or otherwiſe, to the ſatisfaction of the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs or aſſigns, or his or their counſel, or in caſe the ſame cannot within the ſpace of one year next enſuing the date hereof be procured or obtained, then until the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs or aſſigns, ſhall be thereout fully ſatisfied and paid all ſuch loſs, coſts, charges, damages and expences as he or they ſhall be put unto or ſuſtain for the reaſons or cauſes aforeſaid. And therefore it is hereby further declared and agreed by and between the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, that for adjuſting the true and real value of the ſaid rectory and tithes, and other the ſaid laſt mentioned premiſes, two indifferent perſons ſhall be forthwith choſen, the one to be nominated by the ſaid Amos Aſh, and the other by the ſaid Charles Cobb, who ſhall by all due and proper ways and means endeavour to inform themſelves of the value thereof, and what they ſhall agree to be the value thereof ſhall be binding and concluſive to the parties hereunto, ſo as ſuch valuation be made and declared under their hands and ſeals within the ſpace of ſix calendar months next after the date hereof; and in caſe they cannot within that time agree upon the value thereof, then at the end of the ſaid ſix months they ſhall nominate and appoint an indifferent perſon to be by them choſen and appointed under their hands, who ſhall finally end and determine the ſame within the ſpace of three calendar months next after he ſhall be ſo elected and choſen, and whatſoever value the ſaid parties or party ſo to be nominated or appointed reſpectively as aforeſaid ſhall put upon the ſame premiſes, or any part thereof, the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, and their reſpective heirs and aſſigns ſhall ſubmit to and abide by. And it is hereby further agreed, that in caſe all or any part of the ſaid rectory and premiſes laſt mentioned, or any modus or tithes in kind belonging to the ſame ſhall be recovered or evicted from the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs or aſſigns, or any claiming under him or them, then and in ſuch caſe he or they ſhall and may deduct and retain by and out of the ſaid two thouſand pounds ſo much money as the ſame ſhall amount unto upon ſuch valuation as aforeſaid at the rate of twenty-four years purchaſe; but in caſe upon procuring and obtaining ſuch good and effectual title to the ſaid laſt mentioned premiſes by the ſaid Amos Aſh, his executors or adminiſtrators, any anuuity or annuities, rent or rents, ſhall be directed or agreed to be taken in lieu and ſatisfaction of the ſame, or any part thereof, then and in ſuch caſe the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs and aſſigns, ſhall and may deduct and retain by and out of the ſaid two thouſand pounds ſuch ſum or ſums of money as ſuch annuity or annuities, rent or rents ſhall amount unto after the rate of twenty-four years purchaſe, and the reſidue and overplus of the ſaid two thouſand pounds after ſuch deductions in either of the ſaid caſes as aforeſaid, if any ſuch there be, ſhall be paid unto the ſaid Amos Aſh, his executors or adminiſtrators. And the ſaid Amos Aſh doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe and agree to and with the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs and aſſigns, that he the ſaid Amos Aſh, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall and will uſe his and their utmoſt endeavours at the charge and expence of the ſaid Amos Aſh, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, by act of parliament or otherwiſe, forthwith or ſo ſoon as conveniently may be, to cauſe or procure ſuch a good and effectual title to be made of the ſaid rectory, tithes and laſt mentioned premiſes unto the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs and aſſigns, as he or they or his or their counſel ſhall approve of, and that in caſe he cannot within the ſpace of one year next enſuing the date hereof procure ſuch good and effectual title to be made as aforeſaid, then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs and aſſigns, to make ſuch deductions as the caſe ſhall happen, by and out of the ſaid ſum of two thouſand pounds after the rate aforeſaid, according to the loſs or damage he or they ſhall ſuſtain or be put unto by reaſon of any ſuch eviction, diſturbance or interruption as aforeſaid. And laſtly, the ſaid Charles Cobb doth hereby covenant and agree with the ſaid Amos Aſh, his executors and adminiſtrators, that during ſuch time as the ſaid two thouſand pounds, or any part thereof, ſhall remain and continue in the hands of the ſaid Charles Cobb, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, ſubject to ſuch deductions as aforeſaid, and until the ſame ſhall be actually applied for the purpoſes aforeſaid, he and they will pay and allow intereſt for the ſame unto the ſaid Amos Aſh, his executors and adminiſtrators, after the rate of five pounds per cent. per ann. In witneſs, &c.

and from and after the determination of the ſaid term of five hundred years, and ſubject thereto, and to the aforeſaid rent-charge, the ſame premiſes were limited, or intended to have been limited, to the uſe of the ſaid Cyril Cary, his heirs and aſſigns. And whereas the ſaid Cyril Cary in and by his laſt will and teſtament in writing by him duly made and publiſhed, dated on or about the eighth day of June, which was in the year of our Lord 1770, did (among other things) give and deviſe all his manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements and hereditaments whatſoever in Condale aforeſaid, and in the pariſhes of Dell and Egar in the ſaid county of Flint, and all other his lands and tenements whatſoever and whereſoever unto his three ſiſters the ſaid Agnes Allen, Bona Cary, and Barbara Bell, and to their heirs and aſſigns for ever, upon truſt that they the ſaid Agnes Allen, Bona Cary, Barbara Bell, or the ſurvivor or ſurvivors of them, or the heirs of the ſurvivor of them, ſhould with all convenient ſpeed ſell or diſpoſe thereof in the whole or in parcels, and out of the monies raiſed by ſuch ſale or ſales ſhould pay all ſuch debts as were or ſhould be contracted or owing by him, and alſo all debts and incumbrances which the premiſes were charged or chargeable with before he became ſeized thereof; and alſo ſhould pay thereout the legacies therein after mentioned which he gave thereout; and he willed that his ſaid manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements and real eſtate ſhould be ſubject to and charged with the payment (among other annuities and monies) of the ſum of forty pounds per ann. to each of his ſiſters, the ſaid Anne Cary and Bona Cary, for their reſpective natural lives, at Lady-

Leaſe and releaſe by the deviſor and his father recited, whereby a term was created to raiſe portions for ſiſters, and to pay them annuities in the mean time.

The will of the deviſor recited, deviſing his lands to truſtees to ſell, to pay debts of his own, or before contracted, and legacies, ſubject to the annuities to the ſiſters,

Lady-day and Michaelmas by equal portions, as and for the reſpective annuities given to them reſpectively in and by his late father Cary's laſt will and teſtament, (meaning and intending thereby the ſaid annuities provided or intended to be provided for them in and by the ſaid recited indenture quadrupartite, for that no ſuch annuities were given to them, or either of them, in and by his ſaid late father's will) and alſo ſubject to and chargeable with the payment thereout of forty pounds per ann. a-piece more to each of his ſaid ſiſters Anne and Bona Cary, for and during their natural lives reſpectively, and the life of the ſurvivor of them, (over and above the ſaid two annuities ſo given to them as aforeſaid) payable to them reſpectively at the times and in manner as was before directed concerning the ſaid other annuities, with ſuch power of diſtreſs in caſe of non-payment of the ſame annuities, as in the ſame will is in that behalf mentioned; and (after the bequeſt of divers pecuniary and other legacies and bequeſts) the ſaid Cyril Cary did give, deviſe and bequeath all other and the reſt and reſidue of his eſtates real and perſonal whatſoever (after his debts, legacies and funeral expences were paid and diſcharged) unto his ſaid three nieces Eve Due, Helena Gee, and Flavia Fox, their heirs and aſſigns for ever, equally to be divided between them and every of them, and of his ſaid will conſtituted and appointed his ſaid ſiſters Agnes Allen, Bona Cary and Barbara Bell, joint executrixes, as by the ſaid recited indentures and recovery, and the ſaid laſt will of the ſaid Cyril Cary (which has been proved per teſtes in the High Court of Chancery, relation being thereunto reſpectively had,) may (among other things) more fully appear. And whereas the ſaid Bona Cary is ſince departed this life unmarried, ſo that the part and ſhare of the ſaid ſum of twelve hundred pounds, in and by the ſaid indenture quadrupartite provided, or intended to have been provided for her portion, to have been paid at her day of marriage as aforeſaid, never became due or payable; and all the arrears of the ſaid ſeveral annuities in and by the ſaid indenture quadrupartite and will of the ſaid Cyril Cary, or either of them, provided for the ſaid Bona for her life as aforeſaid, and which incurred and became due to her in her life-time, have been fully ſatisfied and diſcharged. And whereas the ſaid Anne Cary is lately married or pretends to be married unto George Gyles the younger (an infant at the age of fourteen years, or thereabuots); and by virtue of the ſaid marriage ſhe the ſaid Anne, and the ſaid George Gyles in her right, or one of them, do claim or pretend to be entitled to the ſum of ſix thouſand pounds for her portion, as her part and ſhare of the ſaid ſum of one thouſand two hundred pounds, in and by the ſaid indenture quadrupartite provided to be raiſed as aforeſaid, together with intereſt for the ſame in the mean time and until payment thereof, in lieu of the ſaid annuity of forty pounds per ann. by the ſaid indenture quadrupartite provided for her as aforeſaid, and which by her ſaid marriage (in caſe ſhe be entitled to the ſaid ſix hundred pounds portion) is ceaſed and determined. And whereas it ſeems doubtful, whether by virtue of the ſaid recited will of the ſaid Cyril Cary, and the deceaſe of the ſaid Bona Cary, ſhe the ſaid Anne, and her ſaid huſband in her right, may not claim or pretend to be entitled not only to the ſaid further annuity of forty pounds per ann. by the ſaid will deviſed or directed to be paid to her for her life as aforeſaid, but alſo to the ſaid further annuity of forty pounds per ann. by the ſame will deviſed or directed to be paid to the ſaid Bona for her life as aforeſaid; and whether by virtue of the words of the ſame will the ſaid laſt mentioned annuity may not ſurvive to her the ſaid Anne, although it is apprehended that the ſaid Cyril Cary the teſtator did not ſo intend. And whereas the ſaid Luna Lane, Matthew Martin, Nathaniel Nunn and Owen Owram, have lately bought and purchaſed of and from the ſaid Agnes Allen and Barbara Bell, with the conſent and approbation of the ſaid Darby Due and Eve his wife, Flavia Fox, and Guy Gee and Helena his wife, for the ſum or price of ſixteen thouſand pounds (part of the perſonal eſtate of the ſaid Peter Lane) The manors of Condale and Hennon, with their appurtenances, in the ſaid county of Flint, and divers freehold and leaſehold meſſuages, lands, tenements, tithes and hereditaments (all late the eſtate of the ſaid Cyril Cary) lying and being in Dell and Egar, or one of them, in the ſaid county of Flint. And by indentures of leaſe and releaſe and aſſignment, the leaſe bearing date the day next before the day of the date hereof, and the releaſe and aſſignment bearing even date herewith, and made or mentioned to be made between the ſaid Agnes Allen and Barbara Bell of the firſt part, the ſaid Darby Due and Eve his wife, Flavia Fox and Guy Gee and Helena his wife, of the ſecond part, John Cary, brother and heir at law of the ſaid Cyril Cary, of the third part, the ſaid Luna Lane, Matthew Martin, Nathaniel Nunn and Owen Owram, of the fourth part, and Kenelm Keate of, &c. Gentleman, of the fifth part; and by other good aſſurances in the law, all the ſaid purchaſed manors and freehold meſſuages, lands, tenements and hereditaments (in purſuance of the ſaid recited agreement, and in conſideration of the ſaid ſum of ſixteen thouſand pounds in the ſaid indenture of releaſe and aſſignment mentioned to be paid by the ſaid Luna Lane, Matthew Martin, Nathaniel Nunn and Owen Owram, in manner therein expreſſed) are conveyed and aſſured, or mentioned or intended to be conveyed and aſſured unto and to the uſe of them the ſaid Luna Lane, Matthew Martin, Nathaniel Nunn and Owen Owram, their heirs and aſſigns; and by the ſame indenture, and for the ſame conſiderations, all the ſaid purchaſed leaſehold lands, tithes and hereditaments, are aſſigned and transferred, or mentioned or intended to be aſſigned or transferred unto the ſaid Kenelm Keate, his executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, in truſt for them the ſaid Luna Lane, Matthew Martin, Nathaniel Nunn and Owen Owram, for all the now reſidue of the term or terms of years therein. And whereas the ſaid George Gyles and Anne his wife, by reaſon of his infancy, and of the coverture of her the ſaid Anne, are at preſent incapable in law to free, releaſe and diſcharge the ſaid purchaſed manors, meſſuages, lands tenements, tithes and hereditaments of and from the ſaid ſix hundred pounds portion and the intereſt thereof, and of and from the ſaid annnity or annuities to which the ſaid Anne and the ſaid George Gyles her huſband in her right, or one of them, are entitled unto, or may claim or pretend to be entitled unto, of, in, to or out of the ſaid purchaſed manors, lands and hereditaments, or to receive and give legal receipts and diſcharges for the ſaid ſix hundred pounds portion, and the intereſt thereof, and the ſaid annuity or annuities, or any of them: And therefore it was at the time of the ſaid purchaſe offered and propoſed by and on the behalf of them the ſaid Darby Due and Eve his wife, Flavia Fox, Guy Gee and Helena his wife, and conſented and agreed unto by them the ſaid Luna Lane, Matthew Martin, Nathaniel Nunn and Owen Owram, that one thouſand five hundred pounds South-Sea annuities ſhould be purchaſed with part of the ſaid ſixteen thouſand pounds purchaſe money in the joint names of them the ſaid Noah North, Owen Oſborn, Peter Gee and Ralph Roll, upon the truſts and for the purpoſes, and ſubject to the agreements herein after in that behalf mentioned, and to be and ſtand as a fund or ſecurity to indemnify and ſave harmleſs the ſaid purchaſers and purchaſed premiſes, of, from and againſt the ſaid portion, intereſt and annuities, and other the claims and demands of them the ſaid George Gyles and Anne his wife, and of each or either of them, of, in, to or out of the ſaid purchaſed premiſes, every and the reſidue of the real and perſonal, &c. to nieces, and making the ſiſters executrixes.

That one of the deviſor's ſiſters is dead unmarried, and another of them is or pretends to be married to a minor.

That it is doubtful whether ſhe be entitled to a ſecond annuity upon the will.

Recital that the executors and truſtees of another teſtator have purchaſed part of the eſtates of the deviſor.

The purchaſe deeds recited, bearing even date herewith.

Recital that the minor and wife are incapable to releaſe the purchaſers.

And that it was agreed that part of the purchaſe money ſhould be inveſted in South-Sea annuities, to ſtand as a ſecurity to indemniſy the purchaſers;

every or any part thereof. And whereas in purſuance of the ſaid propoſal and agreement, and with the privity and conſent of the ſaid Agnes Allen and Barbara Bell, and at the requeſt and by the direction and appointment of the ſaid Darby Due and Eve his wife, Flavia Fox, and Guy Gee and Helena his wife, (teſtified by their being parties to and their ſealing and delivery of theſe preſents) they the ſaid Luna Lane, Matthew Martin, Nathaniel Nunn, and Owen Owram, or ſome of them, have laid out and inveſted, or cauſed to be laid out and inveſted one thouſand ſix hundred pounds, part of the ſaid ſixteen thouſand pounds in the purchaſe of one thouſand five hundred pounds South-ſea annuities, which have been transferred unto and are now ſtanding in the books of the South-ſea Company in the joint names of the ſaid Noah North, Owen Oſborn, Peter Gee and Ralph Roll; as by the books of the ſaid company may appear, and which they the ſaid Noah North, Owen Oſborn, Peter Gee and Ralph Roll, the truſtees for the ſaid annuities, do hereby own and acknowledge. Now this Indenture witneſſeth, and it is hereby declared and agreed by and between all the ſaid parties to theſe preſents, and it is the true intent and meaning of them, and of theſe preſents, that the ſaid one thouſand five hundred pounds South-ſea annuities ſo transferred unto and ſtanding in the names of them the ſaid Noah North, Owen Oſborn, Peter Gee and Ralph Roll as aforeſaid, are and were ſo to them transferred only as truſtees, as a fund and ſecurity for ſuch indemnification, and upon ſuch truſts, and for ſuch purpoſes, and under and ſubject to ſuch agreements, as are herein after mentioned, expreſſed, and declared of and concerning the ſame; Articles

Articles for the Purchaſe of Lands, &c. with many ſpecial Agreements, as in the Margin.

Articles of Agreement indented, made and concluded this ſixteenth Day of May, in the Year of our Lord 1778, between Arthur Altho of Bedley in the County of Bucks, Eſquire, of the one Part, and Cæſar Cuff of the Pariſh of St. Martin in the Fields in the County of Middleſex, as follows:

Agreement for the purchaſe.

It is agreed by and between the ſaid Arthur Altho and the ſaid Cæſar Cuff, that the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall purchaſe of the ſaid Cæſar Cuff, and the ſaid Cæſar Cuff ſhall ſell and convey to the ſaid Arthur Altho all his eſtate, lands, tenements and hereditaments at Drews, Emleys and elſewhere in the county of Eſſex, upon the terms herein after mentioned, viz.

The rate or price ſo many years purchaſe,

That the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall pay to the ſaid Cæſar Cuff for the purchaſe of the ſaid premiſes after the rate of twenty-three years purchaſe for the whole premiſes, according to the preſent annual rents as the ſame are now let to the tenants, and the like rate of twenty-three years purchaſe for all the coppice ground belonging to the ſaid premiſes, (not let to the tenants) computing the annual value of ſuch coppice ground, after the rate of ſeven ſhillings per acre the long meaſure, by which coppice ground is uſually meaſured in that county.

and timber to be valued,

That the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall further pay to the ſaid Cæſar Cuff for all the timber growing on the whole eſtate as the ſame ſhall be valued by two indifferent perſons, one to be choſen by the ſaid Arthur Altho, and the other by the ſaid Cæſar Cuff, in which valuation of timber all trees growing on the premiſes ſhall be accounted timber which are of the value of one ſhilling or above that value, to be eſtimated according to the uſual manner and cuſtom of valuing timber, including as well the timber-trees growing on the foreſt as on the other parts of the eſtate; and the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall alſo pay for the underwood growing on the ſaid foreſt ground, according to the valuation to be made thereof by ſuch two perſons as aforeſaid; Provided it ſhall appear that the ſaid Cæſar Cuff has a right of felling ſuch timber and cutting down ſuch underwood on the foreſt ground at his pleaſure.

and what trees to be deemed timber; in what caſe underwood in the foreſt to be paid for.

The purchaſer to take the eſtate as it is.

That the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall take the ſaid eſtate in the condition it now is, without any allowance or deduction for the repairs of the premiſes, or for the ſea walls, or the tenants boots, or for the life of the widow Ferns, in reſpect of the one hundred pounds per ann. payable to her.

The vendor to convey a good fee ſimple.

That for and in conſideration of the premiſes, and of the ſaid purchaſe-money, the ſaid Cæſar Cuff ſhall convey, or procure to be conveyed to the ſaid Arthur Altho and his heirs a good eſtate in fee-ſimple in all the premiſes, free from all incumbrances, (except the ſaid annuity of one hundred pounds payable to Mrs. Ferns for her life) in which conveyance are to be included not only the farms, lands and premiſes in leaſe to the tenants, but alſo all the foreſt ground, fiſh-ponds, manors, royalties, free chaſe and free warren, privileges and perquiſites belonging to the ſaid Cæſar Cuff, and alſo the perpetual advowſon of the church or parſonage of Drews, and in general all the eſtate, right, title and intereſt which the ſaid Cæſar Cuff hath in the ſaid lands and premiſes, or any other lands and premiſes in Eſſex aforeſaid.

The purchaſer to retain money to pay off incumbrances, and to buy in the reverſion of part.

That all the incumbrances and mortgages now on the premiſes, (except as before excepted) ſhall be paid by the ſaid Arthur Altho out of the ſaid purchaſe-money, and he ſhall be allowed to retain in his hands as much of the ſaid purchaſe-money as ſhall be ſufficient for the buying in the reverſion of part of the premiſes herein after mentioned, and for the obtaining and proſecuting any decree or act of parliament for that purpoſe.

The vendor to bear the charge of buying in a reverſion after a long term which he has in part of the premiſes.

That as to ſuch part of the ſaid lands and premiſes as the ſaid Cæſar Cuff is poſſeſſed of only for the remainder of a term of five hundred years, the ſaid Cæſar Cuff ſhall be at the charge of purchaſing in the reverſion of the ſaid premiſes, and of any decree or act of parliament to be obtained for that purpoſe, ſo as that the fee-ſimple and inheritance thereof may be conveyed to the ſaid Arthur Altho and his heirs, for which a ſufficient part of the ſaid purchaſe-money ſhall be left in his hands, as in the next preceeding article is provided.

The vendor to convey his preſent eſtate.

That the title and eſtate which the ſaid Cæſar Cuff now hath in all and ſingular the premiſes, ſhall forthwith (or with all convenient ſpeed) be conveyed and made over by the ſaid Cæſar Cuff to the ſaid Arthur Altho and he ſhall be let into the poſſeſſion of the premiſes; and the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall thereupon out of the purchaſe-money (to be paid for ſuch part of the lands and premiſes as are now let to the tenants as aforeſaid) diſcharge all the mortgages and incumbrances on the premiſes to ſuch of the mortgagees as ſhall be willing to take in their money; but as to ſuch of the mortgagees as ſhall inſiſt on the uſual notice, the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall retain in his hands of the purchaſe-money ſufficient to anſwer the principal and intereſt then due to ſuch mortgagees. And the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall alſo be allowed to retain in his hands of the ſaid purchaſe-money the further ſum of five hunded pounds as a caution or ſecurity for the purchaſing of the ſaid reverſion, and for defraying the charges of getting in the ſame; and the reſidue of the ſaid purchaſe-money (after deducting what is hereby agreed to be retained in his hands as aforeſaid) ſhall be paid to the ſaid Cæſar Cuff or his aſſigns, for which the ſaid whole premiſes ſhall remain and ſtand as ſecurity to the ſaid Arthur Altho till the ſaid reverſion ſhall be purchaſed as aforeſaid.

Mortgages, &c. how to be paid off by the purchaſer, he to retain a ſum to purchaſe the reverſion, &c.

The valuation of timber to be poſtponed till winter, and the purchaſer to give bond for the money.

That in regard it may be very difficult (if not impracticable) rightly to view and value the timber growing on the ſaid premiſes, and to meaſure the coppice ground during the ſummer ſeaſon, by reaſon whereof the purchaſe-money to be paid by the ſaid Arthur Altho in reſpect of ſuch timber and coppice ground cannot at preſent be reduced to a certainty, it is agreed, that the valuing the ſaid timber and meaſuring the ſaid coppice ground ſhall be deferred till the next fall of the leaf, and that in the mean time the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall give to the ſaid Cæſar Cuff, or to ſome other perſon whom he ſhall name, in truſt for him, a bond in a ſufficient penalty, conditioned to pay for the ſaid timber and coppice ground according to the valuation and rates aforeſaid, as ſoon as the ſame ſhall be valued and meaſured as aforeſaid.

If the reverſion cannot be got in, the purchaſer may be off, and be paid back his money with intereſt, diſcounting rents, &c. if got

That in caſe it ſhall be found that the ſaid reverſion cannot be bought or otherwiſe got in, and if the ſame ſhall not be actually conveyed to the ſaid Arthur Altho on or before the twenty-fifth day of December which will be in the year of our Lord 1779, the ſaid Arthur Altho ſhall be at liberty to vacate the preſent agreement for the ſale and purchaſe of the ſaid premiſes, and ſhall be paid back what of the ſaid purchaſe-money he ſhall have then paid, with intereſt for the ſame, diſcounting thereout what he ſhall have then

then received by the rents or profits of the ſaid premiſes to the ſaid Cæſar Cuff or his aſſigns, or as he ſhall appoint, free of all incumbrances done by the ſaid Arthur Altho: But if the reverſion of the ſaid premiſes ſhall be bought in and conveyed to the ſaid Arthur Altho, the ſurplus of the ſaid ſum of five hundred pounds (after deducting what ſhall have been paid for that reverſion and the charges of getting in the ſame) ſhall be paid to the ſaid Cæſar Cuff with intereſt for the ſame from the time when the ſaid Cæſar Cuff ſhall have had poſſeſſion of the premiſes.

in, the ſurplus to be paid to the vendor.

And Laſtly, That if at the time of executing the ſaid conveyance and letting the ſaid Arthur Altho into the poſſeſſion of the ſaid premiſes three months or upwards ſhall have then elapſed ſince the laſt rent-day, the ſaid Cæſar Cuff ſhall have an allowance in reſpect of the ſaid three months ſo elapſed, and ſhall alſo have liberty to receive any rent which ſhall be in arrear in the tenants hands at the ſaid then laſt rent-day. In Witneſs, &c.

Agreement as to arrears of rent, and time elapſing between rent-day and day of poſſeſſion.

H.* Eſquires, Maſters of the Bench of the Honourable Society of Lincoln's-Inn, of the one part, and H. S. of the ſame Society, Eſquire, of the other part.

WHEREAS the ſaid H. S. is ſeiſed of and doth claim to himſelf, by virtue of a title derived to him from the Crown, or otherwiſe, the ſoil, freehold and inheritance to that open place of ground on the ſouth and ſouth-weſt ſide of Lincoln's-Inn walls, commonly known by the name of Lincoln's-Inn Little Fields, or Fickets Fields: And whereas ſeveral diſputes and differences have lately ariſen between the ſaid maſters of the bench, on the behalf of the ſaid ſociety, and him the ſaid H. S. concerning the erecting of ſeveral buildings upon the ſaid ground; Now for the ſettling and accommodating of the ſaid matters, it is agreed by and between the ſaid parties to theſe preſents in manner following: Imprimis, it is agreed, That ſo much of the ſaid ground as is herein after particularly abutted and bounded, that is to ſay, all that part of the ſaid ground from the walls of Lincoln's-Inn ſouthwards to the rail immediately before Sir R. P.'s buildings, running parallel with the way from the Bell-yard end to the Plough-Stables Inn, and from the ſpace of ten feet diſtance from the houſes and walls on the eaſtern part of the ſaid field, ſo far weſtward as will run in a juſt parallel from north to ſouth with the corner of the Baſe Court wall, and ſo far further as may run in a parallel line from north to ſouth within eight feet of Portugal-Row End, ſhall from time to time, and at all times hereafter, be diſpoſed of, and ſuch buildings only ſhall be erected thereupon, and the buildings erected ſhall be employed in manner only as heretofore is expreſſed. And it is agreed, That the ſaid H. S. his heirs or aſſigns, at his or their own proper coſts and charges, ſhall within three years next enſuing the date hereof, erect and build in and upon the ſaid parcel of ground ſo bounded out as aforeſaid, three ranges of buildings, that is to ſay, one row or range of the ſaid buildings to be erected on the eaſtern part of the ſaid piece of ground, and to be extended from the ſouth-weſt corner of the kitchen garden wall of the ſaid ſociety, on the north ſide of the ſaid field, all along ſouthward to the diſtance of ſixty feet from the buildings of Sir R. P. and the ſecond row or range of the ſaid buildings on the weſt part of the ground, to begin at the north end of the now gardener's houſe of the ſaid ſociety, and to extend ſouthward to the diſtance likewiſe of ſixty feet, from the houſes on the ſouth ſide of the way from Bell-Yard to Plough Stables, and to range with Lincoln's-Inn long wall from Turnſtile to the ſaid gardener's houſe; and the third row or range of the ſaid buildings on the ſouthern ſide of the ſaid field, to extend from the end of the firſt row or range on the eaſtern part of the ſaid ground to the end of the ſaid ſecond row or range on the weſtern part of the ſaid ground, and to range with the ſaid houſes on the ſouth ſide of the highway from Bell-yard to Plough Stables, and ſixty feet diſtance from the ſaid houſes; And that a convenient, handſome and proportionable gate ſhall be made through the eaſt end of the ſaid third range of buildings, to go under an arch to be turned for that purpoſe; and that a gate ſhall be likewiſe made through the north end of the ſaid ſecond range of buildings, to go out under an arch to be turned for that purpoſe; and that the ſaid buildings ſhall be erected three ſtory high, and no higher, and without a garret; but the ſaid H. S. may make cellars if he pleaſes, and all the doors of the ſaid buildings ſo to be erected, ſhall be all of them made in the inſide of the ſaid intended buildings towards the intended quadrangle, and none of them on the outſide thereof. And it is alſo agreed, That the ſaid buildings, when erected, ſhall be employed and made uſe of for chambers, for ſuch perſons as now are or hereafter ſhall be members of the ſaid ſociety of Lincoln's-Inn, or ſuch Serjeants at Law as have formerly been of the ſaid ſociety, and for no other purpoſe whatſoever; and that the ſame ſhall be liable to all manner of duties and payments, and be regulated according to the antient and ordinary orders of the ſaid ſociety, in ſuch manner as the preſent chambers of the ſaid ſociety are liable unto, except only the reſtrictions following, that is to ſay, as to ſuch of the ſaid chambers as ſhall be built upon the ſaid piece of ground, part of Little Lincoln's-Inn Fields, or Fickets Fields aforeſaid, that he the ſaid H. S. that the ſaid H. S. ſhall have ſix ſeveral aſſignments for the ſucceſſive lives of ſix ſeveral perſons, to be named by the ſaid H. S. his heirs or aſſigns ſucceſſively, as the lives fall, without paying any fee or income to this ſociety for the ſame, other than what is to be paid for the ſaid new erected chambers on the ſaid ground of Fickets Fields aforeſaid. And it is alſo agreed, that the ſaid H. S. his, &c. ſhall and will, at his and their like proper coſts and charges, erect a good and ſufficient brick wall, a brick and a half thick, and ten feet high, to run ſouthward from the ſouth end corner of the ſaid kitchen garden wall, and range equal with the buildings on the eaſt ſide of the ſaid fields, ten feet diſtance from the ſame towards Bell-Yard, and to extend to that place which ſhall range equally with the outſide of the third range of buildings, and from thence to go again in a direct line to the ſouth-eaſt corner of the ſaid new buildings, in the latter part of which ſaid new wall ſhall be a ſufficient gate place, and a ſufficient gate ſet up for all ſorts of carts and carriages to go in and out thereat. And further, That the ſaid H. S. &c. ſhall and will, at ſuch their coſts and charges, erect and build a good and ſufficient bog-houſe, or houſe of office, for the uſe of the ſaid ſociety, and a ſufficient houſe for the Gardener of ſaid ſociety, to be built between the backſide of the ſaid firſt range of buildings and the ſaid new wall; and that part of the ſame ground ſhall be made uſe of for a layſtall for ever for this ſociety: In Conſideration whereof he the ſaid H. S. his heirs, executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, ſhall have all the brick, timber, and other materials of the preſent bog-houſe and Gardener's houſe, and of ſo much of the walls of the ſaid ſociety as ſhall be neceſſarily pulled down and removed in order to the buildings aforeſaid. And further, at the ſame coſts and charges, a ſufficient quantity of the ground on the outſide of the ſaid ſecond and third range of buildings, for the convenient paſſing of people, ſhall be handſomely paved with good and ſufficient oaken poſts of ſquare timber, ſet up at convenient diſtance from each other on the outſide of the ſaid pavements; and at the ſame coſts and charges, when all the ſaid buildings are erected and compleatly finiſhed, all ſuch rubbiſh and earth as ſhall be caſt up and remain within the compaſs of the ſaid buildings, ſhall within the ſpace of ſix months then coming rid and carry off. And it is alſo agreed, that the waſte ground which ſhall remain and be of the ſaid piece and parcel of ground ſo bounded out as aforeſaid, other than what ſhall be built upon as aforeſaid, ſhall from time to time, and at all times hereafter, lie open waſte and unbuilt, for the proſpect and recreation of the ſaid ſociety and members thereof; and that no chambers or other buildings ſhall at any time hereafter be erected or built on the void piece of ground called or known by the name of the Kitchen Garden of this Society, or any part thereof, without the conſent and good liking of the ſaid H. S. his heirs and aſſigns, of the ſaid intended new buildings; and the ſaid gates to be now erected ſhall be kept by the porter of the ſaid ſociety. And it is alſo agreed, That the ſaid three ranges of buildings, when erected, ſhall at all times hereafter be called by the name of Serl's Court. And it is alſo agreed, and ſo hereby declared, That he the ſaid H. S. his heirs and aſſigns, ſhall from time to time, and at all times hereafter for ever be ſeiſed of the ſaid piece and parcel of ground, part of the ſaid Little Lincoln's-Inn Fields, ſo butted and bounded as aforeſaid, and of the ſoil, freehold and inheritance of the ſame, to and for the intents and purpoſes herein before expreſſed and declared, and to and for no other uſe, intent or purpoſe whatſoever. And it is further concluded and agreed unto by the ſaid Maſters of the bench on the behalf of the ſaid ſociety, that the ſaid *H. * "Annuity (Annuus reditus) ſignifies a yearly rent to be paid for term of life, or years, or in fee.—According to "Lord Coke, it is an annual ſum of money granted to a perſon in fee, for life, or years, which charges the perſon "of the granter only."—Co. Lit. 144. 6. The author of New Terms of Law defines "Annuity to be a certain ſum of "money granted to a perſon in fee ſimple, fee tail, for terms of life or years, to receive of the granter or his heirs, "ſo that no freehold be charged therewith, and whereof a man ſhall never have aſſiſe or other action but a writ of an- "nuity.—An annuity, ſtrictly taken, is a yearly payment of a certain ſum of money, granted to a perſon in fee ſimple, "fee tail, for life or years, charging the perſon of the granter only; if payable out of lands, it is properly called a "rent-charge; but if both the perſon and eſtate be made liable, as they frequently are, then it is called an annuity."—Vide Co. Lit. 144. 6. Finch 191. 1. Rol. Abr. 226. Doct. & Stud. Dial. 2. c. 30.

In the Doctor and Student, Dial. 1. cap. 3. between a rent and an annuity, the difference is ſhewn; the firſt is that "every rent, be it rent-charge, rent-ſervice or rent-ſeck, is going out of land, but an annuity goes not out of any land, "but charges only the perſon (that is to ſay) the granter, or his heirs that have aſſets by deſcent." Lit. Sect. 220.

"For the recovery of an annuity no action lies, but only a writ of annuity againſt the granter, his heirs or ſucceſſors." Fitz-Herb. Nat. Brev. 152.

"If a man ſeize of lands grants by deed-poll or indenture, a yearly rent to be iſſuing out of the ſame lands to a man "in fee, in tail, or for life, &c. with a clauſe of diſtreſs, this is a rent-charge; but if a grant be without a clauſe of diſ- "treſs, this is a rent-ſeck." Lit. Sect. 218.

If a man would grant to another a rent-charge to be iſſuing out of his land, but would not have his perſon charged in any manner by a writ of annuity, then he may add a clauſe at the end of the deed to this effect: "PRO- "VIDED ALWAYS that the preſent writing nor any thing herein contained ſhall in any manner extend or be con- "ſtrued to charge my perſon by any writ or action of annuity, but only to charge my lands and tenements with the "yearly rent aforeſaid." And then the land only, and not the perſon of the granter ſhall be charged. Co. Lit. Sec. 220.

"But if a man grant a rent out of land in which he has nothing with a proviſo that he be not charged for this in a "writ of annuity, it ſhall nevertheleſs be a good annuity, for the proviſo being repugnant is void. Co. Lit. 146. "2 Bulſt. 149.

"If a man grants a rent out of his lands to J. S. and his heirs, with power of diſtreſs during his life, this is a rent- "charge in J. S. becauſe he may diſtrain on the lands out of which it iſſues during his life, but it ſhall be ſeck in the "hands of his heirs; becauſe by the expreſs words of the deed the remedy was to ceaſe upon his death, otherwiſe "if the diſtreſs had been limited only for years, for then the entire rent had been ſeck; becauſe the remedy being "temporary is not adequate to the right which is perpetual. Co. Lit. 147. 6. 7. Co. 51. 6.

THIS Indenture tripartite, made the 19th day of July, in the eighteenth year, &c. and in the year of our Lord 1778, Between Adam Aſton of, &c. of the firſt part, Bruen Ball of the pariſh of Conhall in the county of Cumberland, Eſquire, of the ſecond part, and David Aſton, Eſq; (a perſon nominated by the ſaid Adam Aſton,) and Edmund Ellis, (a perſon nominated by the ſaid Bruen Ball) of the third part. Whereas the ſaid Bruen Ball hath lately contracted and agreed with the ſaid Adam Aſton for the purchaſe of the annuity, yearly rent or ſum of ſix hundred pounds of lawful money of Great Britain, herein after covenanted and agreed to be paid to him the ſaid Bruen Ball for his life, for the price or ſum of five thouſand pounds of like money. Now this Indenture witneſſeth, That in purſuance of the ſaid agreement, and for and in conſideration of the ſaid ſum of five thouſand pounds of lawful money of Great Britain, to the ſaid Adam Aſton in hand paid by the ſaid Bruen Ball at or before the enſealing and delivery of theſe preſents, (the receipt whereof he the ſaid Adam Aſton doth hereby acknowledge, and thereof, and of every part thereof, doth acquit, releaſe and diſcharge the ſaid Bruen Ball, his executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, and every of them, for ever by theſe preſents,) he the ſaid Adam Aſton doth hereby for himſelf, his heirs, executors and adminiſtrators, covenant, promiſe, grant and agree to and with the ſaid Bruen Ball, his executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, that he the ſaid Adam Aſton, his heirs, executors and adminiſtrators, ſhall and will well and truly pay, or cauſe to be paid unto the ſaid Bruen Ball and his aſſigns, for and during the term of his natural life, one annuity, yearly rent or ſum of ſix hundred pounds of lawful money of Great Britain, free and clear of and from all taxes, charges and deductions whatſoever, parliamentary or otherwiſe, the ſame annuity to be paid, and payable at or in the common dining-hall of Lincoln's-inn in the county of Middleſex yearly, and every year, at or upon the four moſt uſual feaſts or days of payment in the year, (that is to ſay,) the feaſts of Saint Michael the Archangel, the Birth of our Lord Chriſt, the Annunciation of the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, and the Nativity of Saint John the Baptiſt, by even and equal portions; the firſt payment thereof to begin and be made on the feaſt-day of Saint Michael the Archangel next enſuing the date hereof. And whereas the ſaid Adam Aſton, for the better ſecuring the payment of the ſaid annuity, yearly rent or ſum of ſix hundred pounds, to the ſaid Bruen Ball for his life, in manner aforeſaid, hath on or before the day of the date hereof transferred unto the ſaid David Aſton and Edmund Ellis the ſum of twelve thouſand pounds South-ſea annuities, as by the books of the South-ſea company, relation being thereunto had, may appear. S.* and daughters of the said Sir E. S. of the second part, and the said S. H. of the third part, (after reciting the herein before recited indentures of lease and release, or to the same effect as they are herein before recited) and that the said Sir E. S. was dead, without making any appointment touching the said sum of fifteen thousand pounds, and left three young children, (to wit) the said H. S. A. S. and E. S. and that the said H. S. and A. S. were become entitled to five thousand pounds a-piece, and the said E. S. to so much money, as, together with the copyhold estate after mentioned, would make up the sum of five thousand pounds, which ought to be raised out of the said premises, limited to the said S. H. and J. V. for one thousand years as aforesaid; and also that the said J. V. was then dead, and that the said H. S. and A. S. had severally attained their ages of twenty-one years, and that the said Sir T. S. S. had paid, or to their good liking secured to them respectively the sum of five thousand pounds a-piece for their portions, and that the said Sir E. S. had left certain copyhold lands to descend to the said E. S. who then was, (and now is) under age, of the value of two thousand five hundred pounds, or thereabouts, so that it was presumed there was only two thousand five hundred pounds due and to be raised for him, and that the said Sir T. S. S. was desirous to have it in his own power to make a jointure upon any woman whom he should think fit to marry, and that the said Dame A. S. was content to join in such marriage settlement, and that in regard the said Sir T. S. S. was not in the actual possession of the said premises, he having only a remainder expectant on the determination of the said term of one thousand years, he could not by the rules of law make a jointure on his marriage with any person, and therefore had desired the said S. H. (the said J. V. his co-trustee being dead) to surrender part of the said premises to the said Sir T. S. S. leaving a competent part of the said premises to answer and raise the said sum of five thousand pounds, or so much thereof as should be due to the said E. S. and that the said S. H. had agreed to surrender the greatest part of the said manors and premises to the said Sir T. S. S. and that the messuages, &c. called, &c. situate, &c. were to continue in the said S. H. for the residue of the said term of one thousand years, to answer such sum or sums of money as were or should be due to the said E. S. and to indemnify the said S. H. and that in consideration thereof the said Sir T. S. S had agreed to ratify and confirm the said last mentioned messuages, &c. to the said S. H. for the residue of the said term of one thousand years on the trusts therein and herein after mentioned; It is witnessed, that as well in performance of the said agreement, as in consideration of the sum of five shillings paid by the said Sir T. S. S. to the said S. H.

S. H. he the ſaid S. H. by the direction of the ſaid H. S. and A. S. did ſurrender and yield up to the ſaid Sir T. S. S. the ſaid manors, &c. except, &c. To hold the ſaid manors, &c. thereby ſurrendered or intended ſo to be, with their rights, members and appurtenances, (except as therein before excepted) unto the ſaid Sir *T. S. The huſband ſettles and appoints a jointure.

General words.

The yearly value; and within the deſcriptions in the will.

To the wife.

In bar of dower.

* A jointure is defined by Sir Edward Coke to be "a competent livelihood of freehold for a wife of lands and tenements, to take effect in profit or poſſeſſion preſently after the death of the huſband, for the life of the wife at leaſt." This deſcription is framed from the purview of the ſtatute 27 Hen. VIII. c. 10. commonly called the ſtatute of uſes; before the making that ſtatute the greateſt part of the land of England was conveyed to uſes, the property or poſſeſſion of the ſoil being veſted in one man, and the uſe or profits thereof in another, whoſe directions with regard to the diſpoſition thereof, the former was in conſcience obliged to follow and might be compelled by a court of equity to obſerve. Now though a huſband had the uſe of lands in abſolute fee ſimple, yet the wife was not entitled to any dower therein, he not being ſeiſed thereof, wherefore it became uſual on marriages to ſettle by expreſs deed ſome ſpecial eſtate to the uſe of the huſband and his wife, for their lives in joint-tenancy or jointure, which ſettlement would be a proviſion for the wife in caſe ſhe ſurvives her huſband; at length the ſtatute of uſes ordained that ſuch as had the uſe of lands, ſhould to all intents and purpoſes be reputed and taken to be abſolutely ſeiſed and poſſeſſed of the ſoil itſelf, in conſequence of which legal ſeiſin all wives would have become dowable of ſuch lands as were held to the uſe of their huſbands. And alſo entitled at the ſame time to any ſpecial lands that might be ſettled in jointure, had not the ſame ſtatute provided that upon making ſuch an eſtate in jointure to the wife before marriage, ſhe ſhall be forever precluded from her dower. But then theſe four requiſites muſt be punctually obſerved, firſt the jointure muſt take effect immediately on the death of the huſband, ſecondly it muſt be for the wife's own life at leaſt, and not pur auter vie, or for any term of years, or other ſmall eſtate. Third, it muſt be made to herſelf and no other in truſt for her. Fourth, it muſt be made and ſo in the deed particularly expreſſed to be in ſatisfaction of her whole dower, and not of any particular part of it. If the jointure be made to her after marriage, ſhe has her election after her huſband's death as in dower ad oſtium eccleſiæ and may either accept it or refuſe it, and betake herſelf to her dower at common law, for ſhe was not capable of conſenting to it during coverture, and if by any fraud or accident, a jointure made before marriage proves to be on a bad title, and the jointreſs is evicted or turned out of poſſeſſion, ſhe ſhall then (by the proviſions of the ſame ſtatute) have her dower pro tanto at the common law, vide 1 inſt. 36, 4 rept. 1, 2. *Bl. Declaration.

An Appointment by a Father, that Money due to him from his Son-in-Law, ſhall be taken as Part of one of his Daughter's Share of a reſiduary Eſtate which the Father had ſettled in Truſt for all his Daughters.

Recital that the father has lent money to the ſon-in-law, and that he has formerly ſettled his reſiduary eſtate in truſt for this and other daughters; and that in caſe of non-payment of the money lent, his reſiduary eſtate will be diminiſhed, which he would prevent.

He therefore directs that the money which the ſon-in-law ſhall owe him, ſhall be charged upon this daughter's ſhare of the reſiduary eſtate.

TO all to whom theſe preſents ſhall come, Abel Aſh of Alton in the county of Surry, Eſquire, ſendeth greeting. Whereas at the inſtance and requeſt of John Jones, Eſquire, and Hannah his wife (daughter of the ſaid Abel Aſh) or one of them, he the ſaid Abel Aſh hath at ſeveral times lent and advanced to or for the benefit or uſe of the ſaid John Jones, upon note or order under his hand or otherwiſe, divers conſiderable ſums of money, which are yet due and owing to him the ſaid Abel Aſh; and may hereafter advance and lend more monies to him or for his uſe and benefit. And whereas he the ſaid Abel Aſh hath ſometime ſince ſettled the reſidue and overplus of his real and perſonal eſtate upon truſtees for the benefit of his ſaid daughter Hannah, and his other daughters, and their reſpective iſſue. And in caſe the ſaid ſeveral ſums of money ſo lent and advanced, or hereafter to be lent and advanced, to or for the uſe of the ſaid John Jones as aforeſaid, ſhould happen not to be repaid to the ſaid Abel Aſh in his life-time, or to his truſtees and executors, immediately upon and after his deceaſe, the reſpective parts and ſhares of his ſaid other daughters and their reſpective iſſue, of and in the ſaid reſidue and overplus of his ſaid real and perſonal eſtate, will be leſſened and prejudiced, which he the ſaid Abel Aſh is willing and deſirous to prevent. Now therefore theſe preſents witneſs, and the ſaid Abel Aſh doth hereby expreſsly order, direct and declare, that all ſuch ſum and ſums of money, as the ſaid John Jones now doth, or hereafter ſhall owe unto the ſaid Abel Aſh, at the time of his the ſaid Abel Aſh's deceaſe, and which ſhall not be paid and made good unto the eſtate of the ſaid Abel Aſh in his life-time, or immediately upon and after his deceaſe, by the ſaid John Jones, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, with lawful intereſt for the ſame, from the death of the ſaid John Jones, ſhall be deemed, accepted and taken as ſo much of the part and ſhare of the ſaid reſidue and overplus of the ſaid Abel Aſh's eſtate, as is by him ſettled or appointed, to or for the benefit of or in truſt for the ſaid Hannah his daughter or her children, it being the expreſs will and intention of him the ſaid Abel Aſh, that his ſaid other daughters or their children, or any of them, ſhould in no wiſe be prejudiced or ſuffer, or their reſpective parts and ſhares of the ſaid reſidue and overplus of his ſaid eſtate ſhould be leſſened or impaired, by reaſon or means of any ſuch loan or loans, made or to be made, to or for the benefit of the ſaid John Jones as aforeſaid; but that all loſs and damage thereby occaſioned to the ſaid eſtate of the ſaid Abel Aſh ſhould wholly fall upon the part and ſhare of the ſaid Hannah his daughter and her children of and in the ſame eſtate, and be accordingly born and ſuſtained by her and them only; (any thing in the ſaid ſettlement of the ſaid Abel Aſh's reſidue and overplus of his ſaid real and perſonal eſtate contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.) I am of opinion that the timber trees growing upon the premiſes, belong to Mr. J. S. for all the timber felled by him ſince Mr. S.'s title accrued. But what was felled in the life-time of J. H. will be conſidered as perſonal eſtate, and to go to his perſonal repreſentative; as to what was felled by the father and uncle of J. E. ought to be anſwered out of their reſpective eſtates, if not bound by length of time, but it is not ſtated at what particular times ſuch timber was felled, nor how many years ſince, therefore can form no certain opinion thereon.

I think if the debts are not bound by length of time, the leaſe itſelf would be aſſetts to anſwer the ſame.

I do not ſee that the tenant is obliged in equity to keep the buildings in repair, if there is no covenant contained in the leaſe for that purpoſe.

The parties. THIS Indenture tripartite, made the thirteenth day of July, in the nineteenth year, &c. and in the year of our Lord 1779, Between Abel Arn of the pariſh of St. Giles in the Fields in the county of Middleſex, glazier, of the firſt part, Bartholomew Babe and Chriſtopher Cant, both of the pariſh of St. Anne within the liberty of Weſtminſter in the ſaid county of Middleſex, carpenters, of the ſecond part, and David Dace of Lincoln's-inn in the ſaid county of Middleſex, Eſquire, of the third part.

A building leaſe of ground, from one to two, recited. Whereas by indenture bearing date the ſixth day of June, which was in the year of our Lord 1778, and made, or mentioned to be made, between Edmund Edlin of, &c. Eſquire, of the one part, and the ſaid Bartholomew Babe and Chriſtopher Cant of the other part; the ſaid Edmund Edlin for the conſiderations therein mentioned, Did leaſe, ſet, and to farm let unto the ſaid Bartholomew Babe and Chriſtopher Cant,

A. demiſes by leaſe to B. a houſe in London, and in the leaſe are contained the uſual covenants for repair, without any exception as to fire, and other unavoidable accidents, B. inſured the houſe, but not ſufficiently, and it is now burned down.

B. is willing to deliver to the leſſor the policy, but apprehends he is not compellable to rebuild.

Q. 1. As this was an unavoidable accident, is B. compellable to rebuild the houſe, or to anſwer the value in damages?

Whatever effects the nature of the accident might have in an action of waſte, yet as the leſſees have entered into a poſitive covenant to uphold, maintain and repair the premiſes, I think that, as there is no exception againſt fire, they will be obliged to rebuild the houſe, or anſwer the value in damages.

Q. 2. Is an aſſignee of a leſſee compellable to rebuild, or anſwer the value in damages?

Every aſſignee is liable to all the breaches of ſuch covenants as run with the land, as thoſe for repairs do, and were incurred during his time, and therefore if the preſent tenant is only aſſignee of the leſſee, yet I think he will be compellable to make good the damages which happened whilſt the eſtate continued in him, and although he ſhould aſſign his intereſt, yet I apprehend ſuch aſſignment would not diſcharge the obligation that lies upon him, but both he and his aſſignee, at the end of the term, would be liable to rebuild or to make ſatisfaction in damage for not doing it. As to the original leſſee, and his repreſentatives, they will always remain anſwerable to the leſſor, tho' they happened to aſſign before the accident happened.

J. S. being seised in fee of certain lands, &c. in the county of D. hath contracted for the sale thereof with J. P. the premises were demised by the father and grandfather of the said J. S. for the term of one thousand years, with an intent to secure a certain sum of money, and interest, which term by mesne assignments, or otherwise, is become vested in M. S. and the said J. S. is married.

Q. Will an assignment of the term to a trustee of M. P. protect the estate from the dower of the wife of J S. or will it be necessary for him to levy a fine?

I am of opinion that the wife of J. S. will be entitled in equity to her dower, upon paying off one-third of the money due upon the mortgage, or keeping down one-third of the interest, supposing the mortgage money to be yet due and unpaid; but if the term is only kept on foot to attend the inheritance, that then she will be entitled to her dower without paying one-third of the mortgage, or keeping down one-third of the interest, and will be entitled to the benefit of the trust term to protect her estate, therefore, in either case, to bar her of dower, it will be necessary that she should join with her husband in levying a fine of those lands.

J. BURLAND,
Essex-street, Oct. 30, 1769.

N. B. On a doubt whether the above opinion was right, the case was again stated, with this alteration only, that the mortgage was not paid off.

I am of opinion that the wife of J. S. will be entitled to her dower in equity upon paying off one-third of the money due upon the mortgage, or keeping down one-third of the interest, tho' as to the mortgage she must pay the whole money, and hold over for the two-thirds which she is not chargeable with herself: this is expressly declared by Sir Jo. Jekyl, Master of the Rolls, in the case of Banks and Sutton, reported in 2d of William, 632, and I cannot find any later determination differing from it; and however like it may be to the case of a trust, of which a wife is not to be endowed, yet the resolution upon the two cases have been different: it is by positive determinations that these cases have been settled, and not under any distinctions founded in argument, any more than the different distinctions which have been made up on the two estates of dower, and by the courtesy, for no reason can be assigned why a husband should be entitled to a trust estate of his wife as tenant by the courtesy, and the wife should not have her dower out of the same sort of estate of the husband; I am of opinion therefore, that to bar Mr. S.'s wife from any claim of dower, it will be necessary for them both to join in levying a fine.

hereto; to which bill the ſame T. P. having put in his anſwer, and publication being paſt in the preſent cauſe, it is expected that the ſaid cauſe now pending between the ſaid J. P. and T. P. party hereto, touching the matters aforeſaid, will be heard as of or before Trinity term now next enſuing; upon hearing whereof it is preſumed and hoped by the ſaid J. P. that the ſaid court will be of opinion, and decree a confirmation of the ſaid annuity according to the true intent of the ſaid recited indenture, and alſo payment of all arrears thereof now due to him the ſaid J. P. And whereas there is now due and owing to him the ſaid J. P. party, his heirs or aſſigns, ſhall by the ſaid Court of Chancery be decreed to pay, or that the ſaid annuity of three hundred pounds per annum ſhall any otherwiſe be confirmed or made payable to the ſaid J. P. or his aſſigns, during his life; that then and in ſuch caſe (after payment of the ſaid ſum of ſix hundred pounds, and intereſt, out of ſuch arrears in manner aforeſaid,) he the ſaid T. P. party, his heirs or aſſigns, ſhall, from the time of making ſuch decree or other confirmation of the ſaid annuity of three hundred pounds per annum, or any part thereof, pay the ſame unto the ſaid *R. THIS Indenture made the ſecond day of June, in the eighteenth year, &c. and in the year of our Lord 1779, Between Mary Raynor of, &c. widow, (executrix of the laſt will and teſtament of Sarah Day, widow, deceaſed, who was the executrix of the laſt will and teſtament of Jane How, ſpinſter, deceaſed, who was the executrix of the laſt will and teſtament of Pen. Mabbet, widow, de-

*CASE.

A. B. being poſſeſſed of a conſiderable perſonal eſtate, part whereof was out on mortgages and bonds, and other part thereof conſiſted of leaſehold premiſes held for lives, died inteſtate, leaving a widow but no child; the widow took out letters of adminiſtration, and made diſtribution of a moiety of her late huſband's effects amongſt his next of kin, viz. a brother, a brother's ſon, and a ſiſters daughter, and took releaſes from them in full for their diſtributive ſhare of the moiety (ſave as to two leaſehold houſes) one of which houſes was formerly in two tenements, and at the time of the death of A. B. one of the tenements was held for the widows life only, and the other tenement was alſo held for one life; and at the death of A. B. his widow ſurrendered the two leaſes of the two tenements (the ſame tenements having been taken down by the ſaid A. B. in his life-time, and one houſe built by him on the ground whereon the two tenements ſtood) and took a new leaſe (including the premiſes granted in the former two) in her own name for the lives of three other perſons, who are all now living.

The widow is lately dead, having firſt made her will, and after giving ſeveral legacies and the moiety of the houſe (not renewed by her) to one of her huſband's relations, gave the reſiduum of her perſonal eſtate to C. D. and made him executor of her ſaid will.—Note, at the deceaſe of the widow ſeveral ſums of money were remaining out on mortgages and bonds in the name of A. B.

Q. Therefore can C. D. the executor of the widow of A. B. by taking out letters of adminiſtration de bonis non, or otherwiſe to A. B. entitle himſelf to recover and receive the monies out on mortgage and bond in the name of A. B. or ought the next of kin of A. B. to adminiſter to his effects unadminiſtered to by his widow, and then aſſign over the ſecurities to C. D. or how otherwiſe muſt C. D. act to entitle himſelf to receive the monies out on mortgage and bond in the name of A. B.

A. If C. D. can procure letters of adminiſtration de bonis non to A. B. he may recover all the outſtanding debts of A. B. but if the next of kin of A. B. oppoſe C. D.'s obtaining ſuch letters of adminiſtration, and any of them take out adminiſtration, they will be truſtees for C. D. as to ſo much of A. B.'s effects as they have received their diſtributive ſhares of, and muſt account for ſuch effects to C. D.—C. D. ought to cite the next of kin to adminiſter, and if they do not adminiſter then he ſhould apply for adminiſtration.

Q. If the next of kin to A. B. or any one of them are or is the proper perſons or perſon to take out adminiſtration to the effects of A. B. unadminiſtered to by his widow, it is apprehended that every ſtep will be taken to put C. D. to trouble and expence; for which reaſon will not C. D. be juſtified in not parting with any writings unleſs the monies thereby ſecured be at the ſame time paid into his own hands, as being in equity entitled thereto? Or if the next of kin of A. B. ſhould decline, upon being requeſted by C. D. to adminiſter, what ſteps muſt be taken to compel them to adminiſter, or renounce to C. D. the right of adminiſtration? And if the next of kin of A. B. ſhould adminiſter, can C. D. enforce any ſecurity to be given to the court, granting ſuch adminiſtration to oblige ſuch adminiſtrator faithfully to make diſpoſition of the effects to be by him received?

A. If the next of kin of A. B. ſhould take out letters of adminiſtration, they will at law be entitled to the ſecurities reſpecting A. B.'s eſtate; but I conceive a Court of Equity will not compel C. D. to part with the ſecurities under which he is entitled to a beneficial intereſt, in caſe it ſhall appear that by parting with the poſſeſſion of the ſecurities his intereſt is put in jeopardy. The Spiritual Court upon granting letters of adminiſtration will take a bond to duly adminiſter, and C. D. cannot compel them to give any other ſecurity.

Q. As the widow renewed one of the leaſehold houſes in her own name, and which was held as to part for her own life, and as to other part for the life of another, is the ſaid C. D. her executor accountable to the relations of A. B. for more than a moiety of the rents and profits for that part held for the widows life up to the time of her death, as no ſale was made thereof, or for more than a reaſonable value for the life of the other perſon; the two tenements formerly being by A. B. as before obſerved, made into one building, and therefore cannot now be properly eſtimated diſtinctly?

A. The widow, previous to the renewal of the leaſe, was entitled to one moiety of the profits of the leaſehold eſtate, and the next of kin to the other moiety; after the renewal they were reſpectively entitled in the ſame proportions, ſubject to the payment of intereſt of the ſum advanced for the renewal, for which ſum the widow was a creditor upon the eſtate, and ſubject to a moiety of the principal ſum advanced for procuring the renewal; the next of kin are entitled to a moiety of the renewed intereſt in the leaſe, and the perſonal repreſentative of the widow to the other moiety.

L. KENYON,

Mr. FOUNTAIN's opinion to whom adminiſtration de bonis non ſhould be granted, who ſtated a caſe in point adjudged by the Court of Delegates.

A married woman dies inteſtate, her huſband takes adminiſtration to her and afterwards dies. The queſtion then ariſes, ſhall the adminiſtration de bonis non be granted to the executor of the huſband, or to the next of kin of the inteſtate. It was well argued on the part of the executor, that the whole of the inteſtates eſtate veſted immediately in her huſband after her deceaſe, and that the next of kin would not have any intereſt under ſuch adminiſtration when granted to her. On the other hand it was contended, that the act of ſettling the grant of adminiſtrations directs, that they ſhall be granted to the widow or next of kin. The court was of opinion that they were bound by the act, and in this caſe decreed adminiſtration to the next of kin, in preference to the executor of the huſband. The cauſe was Kindleſide againſt Cleever, determined in Trinity Term 1748. Thus has the law ſtood, and it has been the practice ever ſince.

In the preſent caſe then I am clear of opinion that the next of kin are entitled to adminiſtration de bonis non, and that it cannot be granted to C. D. unleſs all thoſe in diſtribution do firſt renounce.
